FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK – SEPTEMBER 2021

Dear Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

I begin this month with the words of our Lord's first sermon recorded in Matthew:

You have heard that it was said, "You shall love your neighbor and hate your enemy." But I say to you, Love your enemies and pray for those who persecute you, so that you may be sons of your Father who is in heaven. For he makes his sun rise on the evil and on the good, and sends rain on the just and on the unjust. For if you love those who love you, what reward do you have? Do not even the tax collectors do the same? And if you greet only your brothers, what more are you doing than others? Do not even the Gentiles do the same? You therefore must be perfect, as your heavenly Father is perfect (Matthew 5:43-48).

Of course, this quote is from our Lord's Sermon on the Mount. In this sermon He is teaching us who He is and what we are in Him. He, by His holy passion and resurrection, has recreated us as His people. Ours is the Kingdom of Heaven. With the recreation comes the gift, the guarantee, the seal of what we are. We are, in part, people who love. It is this that I wish to ponder. What, as people who find their identity in Christ, does it mean to love?

If you spend any time around me, you know I like to point out that Ancient Greek (as opposed to Biblical, or Koine, Greek—the language used to record the New Testament) has three words for love. These words are eros, philia (this is the source of the name Philadelphia), and agape. Eros, is the most common word for love and generally means to desire—love defined by self-satisfaction. I find it interesting that this general meaning for eros is still, more or less, the same today. As is the meaning of philia—the love categorized most often by deep friendships. The final word, agape, has the general connotation of the high (God) reaching down and for the benefit of the low (us).¹ It is this word, agape, that is found by far most frequently in the New Testament, that we translate as love. In the New Testament, eros is never used, and there is only a small sprinkling of philia. It is the word agape that Christ uses in His sermon quoted above.

The way we are to understand love, then, begins with a correct understanding of agape, and our concept of it must start with God's action—or His love—toward us. We see this in the well-known passage from the Holy Gospel according to St. John: “For God so loved the world, that he gave his only Son, that whoever believes in him should not perish but have eternal life” (John 3:16). He sacrifices. He dies for His enemies—us. God does everything so we might live in Him and with Him forever. And this is the love He expects us to exhibit in our lives—among our neighbors. Martin Luther, in his great treatise of 1520 puts it like this:

A Christian is a perfectly free lord of all, subject to none.

A Christian is a perfectly dutiful servant of all, subject to all.²

By His sacrifice, Christ has freed us. This freedom is to be used in the service of our neighbors. He, by His sacrifice, has called us to do the same. We are to sacrifice ourselves for our neighbor. This is how we love.

With this in mind, you might grasp how the world gets this all backwards. When the culture chants “Love Wins!” it doesn't mean agape, it means eros. Think about this. Our culture demands we accept its definition of love—often calling it godly. Yet it is not godly. This idea of love is simply about satisfying personal desires without regard for the neighbor. I am free to harm my neighbor—often my family—in my pursuit of love. There is no regard for how this wrong—evil—idea of love might (and often does) harm the neighbor. It pays no heed to how one's actions might be destructive to a neighbor's life or his body. Note the absence of this in our discussions about love. We rarely, if ever, talk about the consequences of our selfish ideas of love: abortion, adultery and divorce, euthanasia, or the horrible psychological and physical effects of sodomy.³ Is this the love Christ speaks of? You, if you are a parent,

¹ Here's a discussion of this lifted from one of my favorite Greek dictionaries: “Ἐρως [eros] is a general love of the world seeking satisfaction wherever it can. Ἀγαπᾶν [agapan, or agape] is a love which makes distinctions, choosing and keeping to its object. Ἐρως is determined by a more or less indefinite impulsion towards its object. Ἀγαπᾶν is a free and decisive act determined by its subject. Ἐρᾶν in its highest sense is used for the upward impulsion of man, for his love for the divine. Ἀγαπᾶν relates for the most part to the love of God, to the love of the higher lifting up the lower, elevating the lower above others. Ἐρᾶν seeks in others the fulfilment of its own life's hunger. Ἀγαπᾶν must often be translated “to show love”; it is a giving, active love on the other's behalf. Quell, G., & Stauffer, E. (1964–). ἀγαπάω, ἀγάπη, ἀγαπητός” G. Kittel, G. W. Bromiley, & G. Friedrich (Eds.), Theological Dictionary of the New Testament (electronic ed., Vol. 1, p. 37). Grand Rapids, MI: Eerdmans.

² Luther, M. (1999). Luther's works, vol. 31: Career of the Reformer I. (J. J. Pelikan, H. C. Oswald, & H. T. Lehmann, Eds.) (Vol. 31, p. 344). Philadelphia: Fortress Press. I have a number of copies of this excellent treatise. I'll share a copy with you, if you would like. It's well worth your time to read. And I add that Luther is highly readable.

³ Even the increasingly politicized Center for Disease Control (CDC) has numerous articles highlighting the risk of this behavior. A list of these articles may be found here: <https://search.cdc.gov/search/index.html?query=anal+sex&sitelimit=&utf8=✓&affiliate=cdc-main>.

I ask you, is this godly love: exposing the neighbor to actual harm in their body? Sadly, we are more than willing to take this stand for CoVid, but not for these other well-documented risks. It seems we're not so willing to follow the science when it comes to satisfying our own desires.

perhaps understand this. Loving your children doesn't mean letting them do whatever they want. It means often saying "No!" because we want the best for them. And, in love, we suffer the arguments and the anger. We sacrifice a good night's sleep to do what we are supposed to do as God's people—or we should.

My point is this: we too often let the culture coopt our Biblical language and redefine it as something completely different. We allow it to be emptied of its true meaning. This is something we must repent of. We need to understand the language—the words—God chose to communicate with us. And we need to submit to these words as He, not we, intends. Listen to how the culture uses these words. Be ready to defend the true meaning and know it yourself. Let's remember how the Lord loves us. And let us be always ready to love and live in the same way.

Your fellow servant in Christ,

Rev. Leonard Astrowski, Pastor

Lutheran Women's Missionary League

Welcome to a new year of Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML). If you have been a part of the Lutheran Church for years like I have, you probably think of this group as just another ladies group that gets together at church to socialize and support each other and that gathers mites for projects around the world.

Yes, that is an enjoyable part of our meeting but we are women with a purpose and our purpose is to support the missions of our Lord in our congregation, our community, our zone, our state, our nation and the world.

Each of our meetings starts with a short devotion from Pastor, followed by a brief business and planning meeting where we conduct the meeting efficiently respecting everyone's time and enjoying a special treat prepared by one of our hostesses. We also collect cancelled postage stamps, empty medicine bottles and of course your mites at our meeting. We conclude the meeting with prayer for the needs that our brought to our attention. If you need to go, you may feel free, but if you stay you can visit or assist with a mission project.

At our September 23 meeting we will be preparing the packets of fleece blankets for the congregation to take home and assemble to be given to Phil's friends. This is a Thrivent sponsored project and a mission very close to our heart.

We do not have a business meeting in October but we will be serving a meal at Christian Care Men's Shelter on October 12. Would you like to volunteer to serve the meal or make something to be served? Watch the October Image for more details and a sign up at the back of the church.

November 18th will be the date of our meeting since the 4th Thursday falls on Thanksgiving. After our business meeting we will be assembling a gift plate to be sold at the LWML sponsored Advent meal, date to be determined. All funds raised will go to help seminary students.

December is our Christmas potluck and a wonderful time with great food and fellowship.

There will not be a meeting in January but after the first of the year the plan is to assemble cards to share with our congregation to brighten someone's day. You do not have to be "crafty" there are those among us who design and set it up and assist.

More to come, but if you have an idea for a Mission Project reach out to one of our officers.

If you have never been to a meeting of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League (LWML). We would love to see you! Do you need a ride? It is always more fun to go with someone else! Let me know.

Officers this year are:

President, Janet Mau; VP, Helen Vogel; Treasurer, Carrie Werke; Secretary, Shelley Moeller

LCMS Stewardship Ministry Newsletter article – September 2021

At the end of the first of his chapters on the virtue of faith in Mere Christianity, C.S. Lewis provides a helpful reminder, by way of analogy, for the foundation of stewardship. He wrote:

“Every faculty you have, your power of thinking or of moving your limbs from moment to moment, is given you by God. If you devoted every moment of your whole life exclusively to His service you could not give Him anything that was not in a sense His own already. So then, when we talk of a man doing anything for God or giving anything to God, I will tell you what it is really like. It is like a small child going to its father and saying, ‘Daddy, give me sixpence to buy you a birthday present.’ Of course, the father does, and he is pleased with the child’s present. It is all very nice and proper, but only an idiot would think that the father is sixpence to the good on the transaction. When a man has made these two discoveries God can really get to work. It is after this that real life begins. (128–129).”

This is the first thing we are given to confess about stewardship, and it has to do with ownership. God owns everything, and we are simply managers – stewards – acting on His behalf. This is true not only of all that we have in this life (Deut. 8:17–18) but also all that we are in this life (1 Cor. 6:20).

The rest flows from here. Since we are stewards, or managers, of what belongs to God, entrusted to make use of it according to His will, there is an expectation of responsibility and accountability. For the Lord said, “Everyone to whom much was given, of him much will be required, and from him to whom they entrusted much, they will demand the more” (Luke 12:48b). And from this comes blessing and reward: “Well done, good and faithful servant. You have been faithful over a little; I will set you over much. Enter into the joy of your master” (Matt. 25:21).

We have everything we need to support this body and life from our God’s fatherly divine goodness and mercy, without any merit or worthiness in us. We have everything we need for our spiritual life also from His merciful hands. On account of the sacrifice of His Son, our Lord Jesus, through the preaching of the gospel and the administration of the sacraments, we have the forgiveness of sins, eternal life, and everlasting salvation delivered to us with absolute certainty that it is ours – not as stewards but as sons (Gal. 4:1–7). Let us then, as His own sons, press all that He gives to us into the service of His church and to His glory.

The Liberty in Christ.

July 4th in the United States is Independence Day, and I am sure you celebrate it. Mexico has an Independence Day also.

The citizens of Mexico wherever they may live remember the night of September 15th, 1810, when a parish priest, Miguel Hidalgo, called on his townspeople to take arms against the Spaniards who had been ruling Mexico since the days of the Conquest in 1521.

El Grito (The Shout), every 16th of September is the Mexican Fiesta par excellence! Streets, houses, buildings and cars are decorated everywhere in the country. On every street corner there are vendors selling flags, balloons, and hats, all with green, white and red, the national colors. Flags wave from practically every house and building.

It is customary for the current President to deliver the Grito at the National Palace in Mexico City. The original bell rung by Hidalgo is the bell that is rung every 16th of September. The ceremony reaches the high point when the crowd joins in proudly shouting out the names of the heroes of Independence and ends with the exciting: Viva Mexico!

When the Grito ceremony ends, the sky lights up with multicolored fireworks that shower the hearts with the pride of knowing that Mexico is free and independent nation.

Why I am talking about liberty? Just read Galatians 5:1 “It is for freedom that Christ has set us free. Stand firm, then, and do not let yourselves be burdened again by a yoke of slavery.”

We have the true liberty in Christ for these reasons:

Because of His love, He died on the cross for us; Through His Gospel, we are now His Children; He gave us reconciliation and His peace; Even though we are sinners, we received His forgiveness; Because gave us faith, we confess that we receive salvation.

Nations may celebrate their Independence Day, but for Children of God, liberty is constant! Every day in Christ we have true liberty; sin’s liberty, death’s and hell’s liberty granted by Jesus. We do not proclaim liberty for just one day, but for an eternal liberty when we believe in His promises.

On July 17, a Quinceañera (a celebration for a young woman turning 15) was held at CR. Miss. Katie Patricio was received into society with a special worship service. Katie is the daughter of Erick and Gislea Patricio. Erick is CR's congregational president

During this month various individuals came to CR with donations: a new vacuum for one! What a wonderful gift since one of our vacuums was not working. Another person came with men's and women's clothing. We really appreciate all these gifts. We also continue receiving food items from Holy Cross, Moline.

As I told you in my last report, I had been contacted by Mrs. Blessman, who is the LLL booth coordinator at the Illinois State Fair. She gave CR the date of Saturday, August 21 from 2-5pm for church members to come and interact with fair goers and hand out both English and Spanish Christian materials. The invitation to church members has been extended but, we don't know yet how many will participate. UPDATE: Fair Booth Mission was canceled this year due to the increases of Covid.

This month, CR members realized that one of the church's A/C units was not working correctly. I contacted our service provider, and he came to check the problem. This company gave us two different ways to solve the problem and an estimate for each. Both were sent to the Rock Island Circuit Hispanic Council and Rev. Dr. Ken Schurb for their review and attention. We are waiting for the answer on how to proceed.

On Saturday, July 24th church members responded to my invitation to come and clean the church and its surroundings. Once again, the people responded favorably. Even the outside cross was painted!

Beardstown Ministry.
On Saturday, July 31, I had the opportunity to travel and conduct a Spanish service with people who came to listen to the Word of God at. On this occasion I met St. John's new pastor, Rev. Brian Homman.
